Seed Stitch Contemporary Textile Awards

5 October – 14 November

The Seed Stitch Contemporary Textile Awards 2018, is presented by Australian Design Centre in partnership with the Seed Stitch Collective and attracted over 95 entries. The award is an open call-out to NSW contemporary artists working with textiles across many genres.

The Seed Stitch Collective is Soraya Abidin, Sky Carter, Suzanne Davey, Niki McDonald, Emma Peters and Kylie Walsh. Founder, Soraya Abidin, had an egalitarian mission to create opportunities for Sydney artists and makers working with textiles, and broaden public awareness around the quality and diversity of the genre. This exhibition brings that mission to fruition with the support of ADC and the Skein Sisters.

ADC is committed to showcasing the best contemporary craft and design practitioners and creating opportunities for these makers and artists.
